

Fluence ambassador program

ambassadors title:

I propose two identities: an Aqua identity and an Aquamariner identity.

In line with the technology used in our fluence network.

Aqua: Anyone who has applied for ambassador status can get it, and when replying to the email to the ambassador applicant, we should add a description of our project or a white paper so that the person can be more responsible to understand the project. When users fill out the ambassador application form we can set up some basic questions about the program.

aquaAquamariner: The Aqua can be obtained by reaching a certain score. Tasks can be completed and the corresponding link posted to reddit, then we set up a form for users to fill out, discord name, link to the reddit task, etc. The project side views the score of the aqua through the number of tasks on reddit.

Not only that, but each ambassador would have to achieve a certain number of points each month to maintain their ambassador status, such as 30 points. There could also be a senior ambassador, and the ambassador with the highest score each month would be awarded the senior ambassador, which would allow the ambassadors to compete with each other to better serve the community and the program, and to promote our program. If you like, you can also have the ambassadors summarize their work in a table each month and report on it.

Tasks.

You can set these tasks for 5 or 4 points each

Video	It should be an informative easy to understand video about Fluence and its features. You can rely on the existing information about the protocol to create the content.
-------	---

Article	You can post an article to your or someone else's blog, preferably related to DeFi, crypto, or blockchain.
Article Translation	You can translate existing articles about Fluence to a language you are fluent in.
Infographics	You can charts/icons/memes to explain Fluence. Please make sure it is easy to comprehend and is not too dense with information.
Twitter	Post a meaningful Tweet about Fluence that should generate replies from other users.
Instagram	You can share a post and/or a story about Fluence. Make sure it includes relevant information and is informative and/or entertaining.
TikTok	If you're a TikTok lover, you can record a video talking about Fluence and your experience with the new liquidity provider protocol. Please make sure the video/s gets viewed and it doesn't contain any financial advice.

The task on MEME and GIF can be set for 3 points

Memes, GIFs, pictures, etc.	If you're creative thinker, we're open to hearing about your art and creations or videos and memes/GIFs. Feel free to refer to the suggested list of topics for inspiration :)
-----------------------------	--

The developer's task can be set to 10 points because it is tougher

If you are a developer, you're welcome to contribute.	Writing tech documentation to help newcomers with similar experiences contribute to the protocol.
	Building some of the protocol components together with the core team.

